UNIT DETAILS

Unit features include large bedrooms, large full bathrooms, large kitchens, separate spacious living room areas and ample closet space. COMMON AREA DETAILS

The property has a privacy-friendly design that rises two levels above the street on a large hillside lot. Parking is provided on site with two large garages totaling 4 spaces at front street level. There is also space for tandem parking two cars behind the building in the paved area which is accessed by a driveway shared with 4-plex next door. A laundry room that contains a washer dryer is not currently being utilized by the tenant. All units are separately metered for electricity and gas, the tenants pay for their own trash, and the landlord pays for water. There is also ample street parking across from the property.

Market Overview

LOS ANGELES APARTMENT MARKET

Los Angeles Metro Overview

The Los Angeles metropolitan apartment market remains one of the largest and most supply-constrained rental markets in the country. High homeownership costs, limited developable land, and a large renter population continue to support demand for well-located rental housing, even as rent growth has moderated from the highs of recent years.

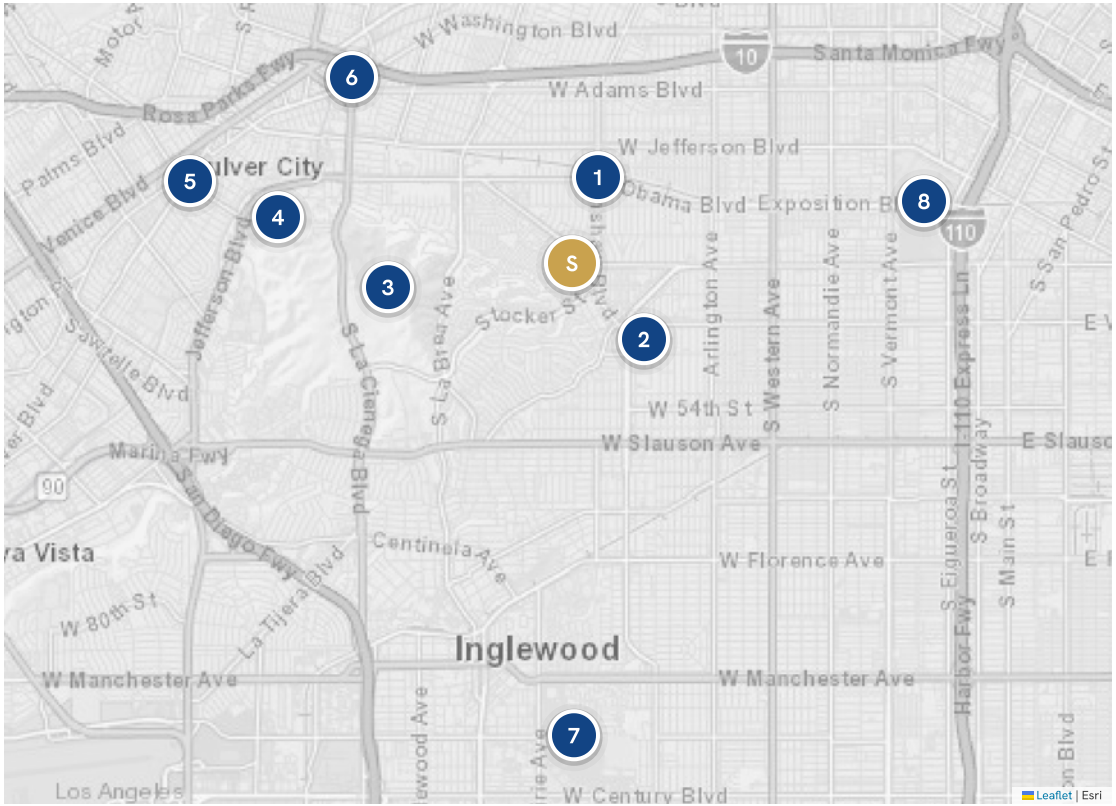

Pre-1978 construction is subject to the Los Angeles Rent Stabilization Ordinance. Under state vacancy decontrol, units delivered vacant may be leased at market rent, which makes vacant small multifamily product a sought-after opportunity in the city.

Baldwin Hills Submarket

Baldwin Hills is an established residential neighborhood between the Crenshaw corridor and Culver City. The area draws renters working across the Westside, Culver City, Downtown Los Angeles and the Inglewood sports and entertainment district, served by the Metro K Line and the Santa Monica Freeway.

Sales activity in the 90008 zip code reflects a consistent bid for older four-unit product, with the comparable set on the following pages trading between $260,000 and $312,500 per unit and $212 to $396 per square foot.
